Framingham State College
2005 Dial Yearbook

Dear Class of 2005,

We are pleased to present you with the 2005 Dial yearbook. The book was designed to emphasize how the images contained within illustrate all of the experiences you had here at Framingham State College. These experiences, both in and out of the classroom, have shaped you into the person you are today. We hope this book will allow you to reflect on all of the challenges and achievements you experienced throughout your journey here as an FSC student.

We hope that you have found success both in your personal and professional lives. As you look back on the time you spent at the College, remember that you are always considered a part of the FSC family and we look forward to seeing you again soon.

Sincerely,

Office of Student Involvement & Campus Events

In Memorium

Dr. Eugene Michaud

Professor of Communication Arts

Dr. Eugene Michaud, Associate Professor of Communication Arts, passed away in April 2005. He held a bachelor's degree from UMass Boston, and masters and doctoral degrees from the Annenberg School for Communication at the University of Pennsylvania. Gene was the coeditor of the book From Hanoi to Hollywood: The Vietnam War in American Film. Dr. Derrick TePaske, Chair of the Communication Arts Department, reflected on what the loss of Gene means: "Tragically, we are diminished now. Not just our academic department and the College, but all of us who knew and loved Gene. He leaves us a powerful legacy and an implicit challenge to carry on. He will hold an inspiring position in our minds, and an enduring place in our hearts. I admired Gene as an active member of various communities, as a teacher, a colleague, a husband, a father — and as a man. I was lucky to be his peer and his friend."

You balanced studying and classes with making great friends and watching Red Sox games - not to mention a World Series Championship!!
